

Our purpose is to create
technologies that drive
human progress

Realizing 2030

A new dawn of immense possibility is on the horizon. Dell Technologies surveyed 3,800 business leaders from around the world to uncover their forecasts for the next decade. The research revealed a divided vision of the future but common ground on the need to transform and how.

See the executive summarySee the complete research findingsDownload the infographic

The world in 2030

Emerging technologies are being used to reshape lives and entire industries as we move forward to 2030. Learn how we can realize the true potential of our relationship with technology to drive human progress.

Download the IFTF reportEmerging Technologies InfographicHuman-Machine Partnerships Infographic

Evolution of Human Innovation

From illumination to artificial intelligence, emerging technologies have shaped our lives. See how human innovation has evolved and what technologies will guide us on the path to 2030.

Watch the video

Digital Transformation Thought Leadership

Dell Technologies regularly commissions research to help customers and other businesses understand how emerging technologies will change the way we live, work and conduct business, and uncover peer advice on how to transform and succeed.

The latest study explores business leaders' forecasts for the future, how they intend to realize 2030 successfully and their tips for others going through transformation.

Learn more

delltechnologies.com/realizing2030